

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

David Livingstone Clink is the Board President of the Rowers Pub Reading Series, and the webmaster of poetrymachine.com. David's poetry has appeared in The Antigonish Review, CV2, The Dalhousie Review, The Fiddlehead, Grain Magazine, The Literary Review of Canada, The Prairie Journal, and in ten anthologies, including I.V. Lounge Nights, Garden Variety, Imagination in Action, and Tesseract 14. He edited the anthology, A Verdant Green (Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2010). He was co-publisher, with Myna Wallin, of Believe Your Own Press, which published twenty quality chapbooks in its five-year history. His poem, "Falling" was nominated for two awards: the Rhysling Award and the Aurora Award. His poem, "Copyright Notice 2525" placed second in the 2007 Asimov's Reader's Poll. His first book of poetry was Eating Fruit Out of Season (Tightrope Books, 2008).